

SQE Law Essentials

1. Introduction

This document is produced by The University of Law for the information of prospective students. It explains the demands of the course in order that applicants with disability support requirements can assess their ability to undertake the course. Detailed questions about the extent of adjustments which may be made should be addressed to the Disability Support and Inclusion Service. This document may be made available to medical practitioners who may be asked to provide a professional judgement on the ability of an applicant to complete the course.

The information included is an indicative guide for the online SQE Law Essentials course. Students who enrol on the course will be subject to the course regulations in force at that time.

Details of the SQE Law Essentials Course, including subject coverage and the learning environment, can be found on the University website.

This document only covers the requirements of SQE Law Essentials.

2. Preliminary Knowledge

Whilst there are no entry requirements for the SQE Law Essentials Programme (unlike the other Law Conversion programmes), applicants should be aware that, to qualify as a solicitor in England & Wales, not only does the individual need to pass SQE1&2, ^{Qualifying} requirements for character and suitability; they also need a UK degree (or equivalent) in any subject.

The programme has been designed at a level equivalent to the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications in England, Wales and Northern Ireland - Level 6.
